Q via <http://www.twitter.com/patrickdixon> on future of newspapers, magazines and traditional print media. Impact of online news channels, Twitter and other web media on newspaper readership, circulation, subscription and advertising revenues. Growth of newspaper readership in India and other emerging economies with fall in developed economies. Niche markets for magazines. Comment by keynote conference speaker and Futurist Patrick Dixon in response to questions via Twitter.

The future of print media will contain many surprises. For example, magazines have proved remarkably resilient despite gloomy forecasts, while the book in newspaper readership in countries like India is astonishing and is influencing global prices for newsprint.
